“Evaluate with confidence”

Hilary Briggs still remembers being in awe of evaluators at her first meetings at Grosvenor Square Speakers back in 2001. However, she quickly set about learning from them, and many others along the way, to go on to win the UK and Ireland Speech Evaluation contest in 2008.

Hilary is currently AC Silver and CL, and has used the skills that she has developed at Toastmasters in her professional career as a management consultant, facilitator and trainer. Hilary believes that evaluation skills are a key life skill – essential at work and home as well as in creating a supportive learning environment within Toastmasters. In this interactive workshop, she'll share her knowledge of what makes a great evaluation, how to build your skills in a systematic way and some top tips for Evaluation Contests.
